

Landowner Frequently Asked Questions: Fort Belknap

Q. I own land at Fort Belknap. Some individuals with interests at my location have already received purchase offers. When will the Buy-Back Program be fully implemented at Fort Belknap?

A. In general, you will only receive a purchase offer if: (a) the reservation you own fractional interests on is scheduled for implementation of the Program, (b) you have been identified as owning an interest in a fractionated tract of land (defined as a tract in trust or restricted status with two or more owners), (c) the tract has a current appraisal, and (d) your interests meet the purchase factor or criteria for the reservation.

For some locations, such as Fort Belknap, the Program is sending initial offers to owners on lands with current appraisals. An initial set of offers is expected to be mailed in July 2014.

In addition to mailing the initial offer set, the Program will continue to move forward on full implementation at Fort Belknap. The Program will proceed with mapping, land research, and appraisal activities for additional fractionated tracts. Additional offers will be mailed to additional owners during the full implementation. If you are interested in participating in selling your interests as part of the full implementation, please contact the TBCC (1-888-678-6836) to make sure your name and contact information are up-to-date and to identify yourself as a willing seller. Please make sure you contact the TBCC in the future if any of your contact information changes so that you can be sure to receive information from the Program.
